What Hurricane?

BY CHRIS MCWATTERS, RD

"Even Hurricane Harvey can't stop Rocky Raccoon!"

That was the line I put on the top of the Tejas Trails website a few months ago. That was after a pretty scary hurricane and 30-plus inches of rain left Huntsville State Park in shambles. This was the 26th year of this trail race, and was no doubt a year to remember.

A few weeks after the floodwater resided post-hurricane, the superintendent told me the park was down to just around three useable miles of trails. After digging deeper into the details, we figured out there were over a dozen bridges messed up; over 70 trees blocking trails; tree roots exposed more than ever; soil eroded everywhere; some trails completely washed out and on and on.

I immediately started spreading the word that we were going to do something about it. Not only for Rocky Raccoon and all the years of trail running bliss we all have enjoyed out there, but bigger than that. I felt like I owe it to these parks and their staff to take care of them. I shouldn't be surprised, but the help came in droves. Some people from up north wrote to me that they couldn't come help, but wanted to send money to the park's efforts. Bobby and Dianna Keogh (Bobby has logged more miles at Rocky Raccoon than any other) came from New Mexico for over a week to haul material and run a chainsaw for days on end. Many others came through, took time off work, gave up weekends, created their own groups, and in so many ways moved dirt, fixed wooden planks, hauled soil, cut trees, brought food and drinks, and gave back to this park. It was awesome!

This race was all about this ridiculously cool community of trail runners, hikers, mountain bikers and folks who simply love being in the woods and coming together do something amazing.

Joe Prusaitis (founder of Tejas Trails) who knows the park inside and out, helped me create a lot of various new route ideas, but we finally landed on a great setup with a 25-mile route, as opposed to the previous 5 × 20 mile loops. Also a long out-and-back after the famous (or infamous, depending on who you are) Dam Nation Aid Station left runners to enjoy passing by each other, whereas the older route was always a long lonely loop back to Dam Nation.

All-in-all Rocky Raccoon 100 still had as big of a field as ever with over 400 registrants even after the weeks around the hurricane slowed down registrations.

As for specifics on race weekends, we had a good number of runners decide to

Rocky Raccoon

Huntsville, TX // February 3

▲ 1,3* // 100 Miles

Elevation gain: Approximately 5,800 feet | The course is five 20-mile loops with easy rollers. No big climbs or descents. The surface is pine needles mostly in a pine forest. Lots of roots, not smooth, not rough, Note: This year's course was changed to four 25-mile loops due to weather prior to the race, impacting the usual trails.
